Fiber optic cable connection 220

Overview

AFL-220 DIN rail Analog/Contact Closure Fiber Optic Link is an OEM product designed especially for industrial applications. The units may be used for transferring +/-10V analog signals or 4-20mA current loop signals, together with 2 contact closures (or digital TTL signals). Unlike fiber splicing, which is permanent, connectors allow for easy connection and disconnection of cables, making them ideal for maintenance and flexibility in. ACT pre-terminated cables are ready-to-use fiber optic installation cables with attached connectors. In this video, you'll learn about the construction of a fiber optic cable and how multimode and single-mode cables are used on today's networks. (FOA) was founded in 1995 to help develop the workforce to build the fiber optic networks to support a rapid expansion in communications and the Internet.
